
A/B base rows; identical shared parameters, weather, phenology and fixed configuration within each pair.
Missing predictions remain explicit outcomes. The number of simulation pairs is not the number of independent field observations.