
Nested prefixes reuse the same model evaluations. Independent seeds are not averaged. Panels have independent y scales.
A complete response permits estimation but does not establish convergence; inspect intervals and seed differences together.